INTEGRATING FAITH AND KNOWLEDGE SINCE 1969

DID YOU KNOW?

Contributed by Carlmont Nursery

? Inmates in a Florida prison are raising beneficial insects that control pests and weeds. At present there are no commercial biocontrol companies in Florida, so the prisoners are learning a trade that will help the find employment when they are released.

? Watermelon contains more cancer-fighting lycopene than most other fruits and vegetables. Now researchers have found that grafting watermelon onto pumpkin, squash or gourd rootstocks results in flesh that is 30% firmer, making it much more desirable for use in fruit salads.

? Conifers with severely damaged root systems, normally discarded, can be rejuvenated by growing them for a season in a bed made up of 90% gravel and 10% sand, according to University of Idaho researchers.

? Researchers found that eating two bowls of gazpacho daily for two weeks increases vitamin C levels and decreases stress molecules associated with health problems.

? Fall is for planting. The gradual cooling (but still warm) air and soil stimulate above and below ground growth.

SANDPIPER BACK INTO FULL SWING By Lisa Frerichs

A month has flown by already here at Sandpiper. The students and teachers have settled into their routines, and science, music and boot camp have all become part of the weekly routine. Our fall social, the Fall Funtastic, took place on October 8th. Parents manned booths, sold hot dogs and cotton candy and enjoyed the day just as much as their children. Thank you to Lisa Yee, Angeline Mar and Linda Tom for their efforts.

This month has brought with it Red Ribbon Week. The theme this year was, "Take care of yourself, take care of each other". Red Ribbon week focuses each year on healthy choices. The kids are encouraged not to do drugs or begin smoking. Good nutrition and exercise habits are also encouraged. The month culminated with the annual Halloween Parade. As parties were taking place in classrooms, parents were gathering on the playground for their ghouls, goblins, cheerleaders and rock stars. The children's creativity never ceases to delight onlookers.

November brings the Book Fair. Join us on November 16th, 17th and 18th. If books are on your holiday shopping list, come to the Sandpiper Library on those dates and choose from hundreds of books from all reading levels. November also brings parent/teacher conferences. Students get to show off what they have learned so far, and parents learn first-hand how their children are doing thus far in the school year. We hope you enjoy your Thanksgiving holidays this year with friends and family.

"Making your real estate dream come true"

BURT RUTAN AT HILLER AVIATION MUSEUM

If space is the final frontier then there is one man ready to open it up for commercial exploration, and that man is Burt Rutan. Burt Rutan is perhaps best-known for the launch of SpaceShip One, the private-manned spacecraft that exceeded an altitude of 328,000 feet twice in a two-week period last October and garnered the $10 million Ansari X-Prize. He came to talk about the future of space travel to a crowd of 300 museum supporters at a gala fund-raising dinner held at the Hiller Aviation Museum.

SpaceShipOne is now on display at the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum in Washington, D.C., but Rutan, 62, is already hard at work on SpaceShipTwo. It's a joint effort with Sir Richard Branson, the man behind Virgin Galactic, to develop a commercial vehicle to take from eight to 12 passengers at a time to space safely and cost-effectively. They hope to take 100,000 people to space in the first 12 years, Rutan said. "I think that Rutan got it dead right," said Graham Hawks, Founder of Deep Flight and creator of underwater flight vehicles. "I think the days of the big institutions like NASA are ending. I think it's a mechanism that has worked in the past. You'll find that Rutan is dead right—it's going to be a small, garage operation, not an institution."

Based in Mojave, Rutan, who was once a test pilot for the Air Force, developed 39 different airplane types through two companies he founded, Rutan Aircraft Factory and Scaled Composites. Two of them hang from the ceiling of the museum the Ames Dryden-1, designed to explore the piloted flight characteristics of a swing wing, and the Rutan Defiant 1978, which Rutan said he spent some 1,500 hours flying in for his personal use. The dinner with Rutan was a precursor to a major fund-raising campaign that the museum hopes to launch next year, said Robert Winter, a member of the museum's board of directors. The campaign will focus on strengthening programs for education, children and science, he said. Hiller Aviation Museum is a non-profit 501(c)3 Educational Institution. The Mission is: "To stimulate and engage our communities to discover the past, celebrate the present, and imagine the future of aviation with a focus on unique technological innovations and innovators." The museum is open daily. For more info please visit www.hiller.org or call (650) 654-0200

WHAT ARE PANOGRAPHIC X-RAYS?

We'll take a panoramic X-ray when we need to have a complete picture of your mouth. Because they produce an image of your entire mouth and jaw, panoramic X-rays can detect receding bone levels (a sign of periodontal disease), abscesses, impacted wisdom teeth, sinus and jaw problems, tooth trauma, and other serious conditions that we would otherwise not be able to detect.

To prepare for a panoramic X-ray, we cover your upper body with a lead apron. You'll rest your chin on a small padded platform, and the X-ray machine will rotate around your face in a smooth constant motion. When your panoramic X-ray is processed, we'll have an invaluable record of the current state of your oral health.

MINIMIZING RADIATION EXPOSURE

We use the latest techniques and equipment in order to ensure that your radiation exposure is minimized. The exposure you get from a modern panoramic X-ray is equal to about ten days of natural background radiation. Because of the high speed film we use, the exposure time is only a few seconds. Additionally, even if you've recently had X-rays taken of other parts of the body, a panoramic X-ray does not add to that exposure.

FOUR ADVANTAGES FOR WORKING WITH A DECORATOR

PLAN A ROOM. DON’T PIECE IT TOGETHER.

A general decorating plan will help you focus on your priorities and encourage you to make wise purchases so that each addition complements the space. Take the guesswork out of choosing a color scheme. You want to select a color scheme that suits your tastes and furnishings. However, the selection of wall colors and finishes can be intimidating if you only do it every five to ten years. A decorator has seen dozens of homes in different color schemes. Her experiences can help you decide if the shade you like will be just right for the size and ambient light level of the room. The backdrop of color will convey elegance, coziness, cool sophistication or playfulness. The knowledge of paint finishes (pearlescent, verdigris, etc.) and application techniques are often the exciting ideas that you might not have known about before consulting with a decorator.

LEARN ALL THE POSSIBILITIES FOR SOLVING A DECORATING DILEMMA BEFORE YOU SPEND MONEY.

Knowing the product durability, variety of styles and finishes as well as the options for customization will insure that you make an informed decision that you’ll enjoy for years to come. A decorator works with a wide range of suppliers and subcontractors who can save you hours of shopping and research. Sometimes the most economical solution to a problem is something only a decorator with years of experience would be able to suggest.

SHOP AT HOME CONVENIENCE ELIMINATES REPETITIOUS TRIPS TO THE MALL.

Nothing is more effective than selecting fabrics and colors in the light of your own home. With our hectic lifestyles, anything that’s time- saving and convenient is definitely worthwhile. A decorator will bring samples, swatches and catalogues of products that are pre-screened to be suitable to your taste and budget directly to your home or office. When you do accompany a decorator to the showroom, you’ll get the undivided attention of the merchant. You’ll also probably be making your purchases for less than the retail cost.

AN OBJECTIVE OPINION WILL RE-ENFORCE YOUR DECISIONS.

A decorator can steer you along the right path if you already have a flair for decorating but just need validation of your ideas. She can also show you which improvements in your home will enhance its future resale value.

When you are ready to finish a room or begin a decorating project, call a decorator. It’s the smart thing to do!
Get a design plan for your home for only $250!
